Description

An attractive house on the road leading through the picturesque village of Lakones. This centrally positioned house was once a much loved family home. The front door is on the road leading through the village, which is well known for its fabulous views over the bays of Paleokastritsa and Liapades beach. The downstairs floor currently has an old kitchen to the left and an entrance room which could be used as a sitting room. This room leads into a hallway at the back which has a staircase leading to the upper floor and a small bedroom to the left. Upstairs there is a large landing leading to two bedrooms with windows overlooking the road. There is a storage room/basement below the house which is externally accessed. Also included in the price is a storage room, also in need of complete renovation, on the opposite side of the road. This space could be used as storage, or converted into a small holiday cottage for visiting guests. This house would be an excellent 'lock-up and leave' house, ideal for both summer and winter holidays. It would also make an excellent little holiday let as the village attracts many tourists.
