Description

This classic 1934 North Strathmore English Tudor has architectural period charm, an updated interior, and an excellent flow for entertaining. This home features three bedrooms and two full and one-half baths. The property is surrounded by lush, mature plantings bordering the bluestone path leading to the cheerful red front door. Adjacent to the front entrance, a private terrace with a custom awning is perfect for enjoying your morning coffee or evening cocktail. The front entry foyer, with a coat closet, offers a dedicated space to welcome guests into the home. A spacious living room features beautiful recently refinished hardwood flooring, original hand-hewn beams on the ceiling, and a magnificent fieldstone wood-burning fireplace. The large, sunny dining room is open to the living room and kitchen. Its sliding glass doors provide access to a bluestone patio and private backyard gardens-the perfect setting for a barbecue and dining al fresco on summer evenings. In 2023, the kitchen with a breakfast nook was renovated to feature new quartz countertops, all-new cabinetry, and new hardwood flooring to blend the open floor plan with the dining room. The bright, welcoming den offers a vaulted beamed ceiling with skylights and additional access to the patio. A powder room is adjacent to the den. The second floor comprises a primary bedroom with an updated ensuite bathroom. This level is complete with two additional bedrooms and a large hall bathroom featuring a beautiful original stained-glass window, a large tub, and a separate stall shower. The home is conveniently located near all that Manhasset offers, including local shopping, the renowned Americana shops and restaurants, nationally recognized schools, and the Manhasset train station. In addition, you are less than 20 miles from NYC, with a short commute to either Penn Station or the new Grand Central Madison Station.
