Description

This three bedroom village house has been tastefully renovated and encapsulates the essence of Corfiot village life. This traditional village house is on the main street leading through the picturesque village of Kouramades in the centre of the island. The village is close to the beaches of the West coast and just a short drive from Corfu Town (20 minutes). Spread over two levels, the house has been fully renovated by its present owner. Stone steps lead up to the front door which opens up into the kitchen and dining area. To the side is the sitting room and a separate small storage room. Patio doors open out to a terrace which looks out over neighbouring rooftops and the olive groves. To the side a couple of steps lead to the swimming pool and small garden at the side. Back inside, there are three bedrooms with ensuite shower rooms on the lower level. The main bedroom also has a separate office/dressing area. Two of the bedrooms lead out to a terrace. Double glazed windows have been installed throughout the house, and there is an air conditioning unit in the kitchen as well as the bedrooms.
