Description

Stunning, gorgeous, polished, pristine are just a few adjectives that best describe this home. The views are captivating and peaceful as you look out on the over two acres. This home was built in 1978 and the stones on the house and surrounding walls were taken from a quarry that was once in Centerville. This home was taken down to the studs and rebuilt in 2006 with top-tier craftsmanship throughout. It has an open floor plan designed with the ease of entertaining or a busy lifestyle. The floors were constructed of Fumed White Oak wood. The kitchen is refined aesthetically with high-end finishes. It's appointed with a Wolf stove top, double oven, an exceptional number of cabinets, and the counter is Silestone. There is a solarium which is heated and cooled if needed by a mini split. It just speaks of peace and tranquility. They've designed to bring a bit of the outside in by using some of the stone in the entry way from the garage. Every nook and cranny were specifically designed for a reason. Plenty of storage in the closets with all having organizers or being a walk-in. For convenience there is an upstairs laundry room and a lower-level laundry room. Upstairs appliances are new and all convey. There are two water heaters, one that has just been replaced, and two HVAC systems serviced regularly. The lower level is a living area all its own. From a kitchenette to your own access in and out. Outside there is another oasis. The carport built in 2006 has two uses. You may prefer to use it for parking or use it for an outdoor entertainment area. You can do as much or as little outdoors regarding the landscape. There is a deer fence that surrounds some of the back and sides of the property. Nature is wonderful to enjoy but not always up-close and personal. This is truly a unique piece of property and a delight to see. It can not be seen from the street. This property is a hidden gem offering peace, privacy and breathtaking surroundings right in the heart of Centerville.
