Description

A semi-detached stone house in the charming village of Pagoi, on the west coast of the island. Kamela House is near the pretty church in Pagoi village. It has exposed stone features throughout the entire house and dark wood details to compliment the style. The entrance leads into the spacious, open plan kitchen, dining and living room area with a shower room. A wooden staircase accesses the upper floor with the three bedrooms and extra shower room. Two of the rooms have air condition for both cooling and heating the spaces. The house was recently renovated to modern standards and is already running as a successful summer rental but can easily be used for fulltime living. Pagoi village is only a 30 minute drive to Corfu Town and 10 minutes to one of Corfu's best west coast beaches, Agios Georgios.
