Description

OPEN HOUSES ARE BY APPOINTMENT ONLY Welcome to this newly refurbished prewar 3 bed / 2 bath home in Brooklyn's vibrant Kensington neighborhood. Gut renovated eat-in kitchen, freshly prepped and painted walls, partially renovated bathrooms that maintain original charm, and fully upgraded electric - pair with gracious period details: arched entryways, high ceilings, and hardwood floors. A generous foyer opens to a sunny, west facing living room with open views of Ocean Parkway - a designated scenic landmark since 1974. The renovated windowed kitchen boasts stainless steel appliances, shaker cabinets, butcher block countertops, vintage inspired diamond patterned floor, and ample space for a table and chairs. The primary bedroom enjoys Ocean Parkway views, easily accommodates a king-size bed, night stands, bureau and features an ensuite windowed bath with stall shower, and two walk-in closets. Across the hallway find a second generously proportioned bedroom with east facing windows and two closets. There is a second windowed bathroom with a tub, newly installed penny floor tiles and vanity. A third bedroom off the entry foyer faces north and has a dedicated closet. Built circa 1900, 415 Ocean Parkway is a pet-friendly elevator building with live-in super, central laundry, additional storage and bike room. The lobby, hallways and elevators have all been recently upgraded. The building is surrounded by a diverse array of restaurants and stores and the Q and F trains are in close proximity.
