Inside the ground-level foyer an oak staircase leads up to the main living area and continues to the upper-level. The main level of this Glenn Gray-designed, 1820 sq. ft. home has quartzite kitchen counters and abundant cabinets, comfortable living and dining areas, washer/dryer, and tile floors. The upper level has the third, primary bedroom with a small refrigerator in the ensuite bath, and another porch with views of neighborhood views and glimpses of Newfound Harbor. A convenient second staircase leads from the large back porch to the back yard and dock. Hardie plank siding, metal roof; some of the upper-level windows are impact-resistant; doors and remaining windows have shutters. Solar-assisted water heater. Although not currently in use, the 2,500-gallon rainwater cistern provides the potential of supplemental water for plants and washing vehicles.
