Description

Welcome to 2150 Azalea Circle, a stunning mid-century ranch on a generous half-acre corner lot in one of North Decatur's most coveted neighborhoods. With nearly 4,000 square feet of living space, this five-bedroom, three-bath, four-sided brick home blends timeless character with modern convenience and it's just minutes from Emory, the CDC, and Decatur Square. Inside, original hardwood floors and airy rooms set the tone for classic mid-century style. The bright kitchen features stainless steel appliances, a view to the family room, and access to almost 1,000 square feet of outdoor living space across two expansive decks. One screened and covered, the other open for morning coffee or evening gatherings. The brand-new, fully finished daylight basement with nine-foot ceilings offers abundant natural light, sleek finishes, and flexible living areas. Three additional rooms can serve as bedrooms, an office, gym, or studio, perfect for multigenerational living or a private apartment conversion. With two laundry areas (one on each level), a two-car garage featuring a graded driveway for privacy and reduced street exposure, and mature landscaping, this home balances everyday function with thoughtful design. It offers a seamless blend of mid-century soul and modern living.
