Description

An elevated estate built for space, privacy & inspiring sea views This expansive coastal villa is built for scale, flexibility, and serious lifestyle value. The main residence delivers 10 large bedrooms and 10 bathrooms, with 8 en suites—ideal for multi-generational families, group living, or structured residential use. An attached yet fully independent apartment adds 2 further bedrooms and a bathroom, creating optional space for management, staff, or separate occupants. Inside, the design is modern, polished, and operationally efficient. Large communal zones include a statement entrance hall, an oversized main living area, and a secondary lounge suited to breakout sessions, meetings, or relaxed downtime. The fully equipped kitchen connects seamlessly to these spaces, supporting everything from family gatherings to catered events or group programs. The property is purpose-built for extended stays and group functionality. Panoramic sea views frame a fully fitted bar area, a dedicated games room with pool and table tennis, and an on-site gym—making it easy to host retreats, workshops, or training sessions without relying on external venues. Outside, the estate continues to perform. A 25-metre private swimming pool with sea views anchors the grounds, complemented by a jacuzzi, sun terraces, and a complete mini-golf course for recreation or team-building activities. A covered outdoor dining terrace and fully equipped barbecue area provide a natural setting for group meals, events, or informal gatherings. Set in a quiet, private location, the villa offers the discretion and calm required for focused work, family time, or residential programs—without sacrificing space, comfort, or amenities. In short, this is a high-capacity, multi-use property that adapts effortlessly to large families, executive retreats, wellness programs, or training facilities. Scalable, private, and built to support people—not just impress them.
