Description

From the moment you arrive, there's an immediate sense of ease. Everything has already been done-thoughtful, beautiful, and with intention. Step inside and you're greeted by an open layout where every detail feels fresh and cohesive. New windows, sliding door, wide-plank flooring, and a seamless flow between living, dining, and kitchen which is both stunning and functional & creates the kind of environment that simply lives well. Whether it's a quiet morning coffee or enjoying with company. Every inch of this home has been elevated. Remodeled bathrooms, updated fixtures, fresh paint, and finished basement offer flexibility for guests, a home office, workout space, or media room. Private fenced yard, perfect for summer evenings, pets, or gathering under the Colorado sky. Newer HVAC and hot water heater provide peace of mind-so you can focus on enjoying the home, not maintaining it. What truly sets this property apart is the lifestyle that surrounds it. Maplewood is more than a neighborhood-it's a community. Impromptu gatherings, seasonal events & neighbors who actually know each other. The wider area carries a rare charm: Free Libraries on quiet streets, dog bowls set out on sidewalks all add to the character. Just minutes away, Tennyson Street comes alive with festivals, art walks, and some of Denver's best locally owned restaurants, shops, and coffee spots. Along 38th Avenue, parades and community events bring energy and connection throughout the year. Here, walkability meets authenticity. Historic brick homes, classic bungalows, and modern builds blend together in a neighborhood that feels curated over time. It's the kind of place where you can walk to dinner, know your neighbors, and still be perfectly positioned-close enough to downtown for convenience, yet with effortless access to the mountains when you want to get away. This is more than a beautifully remodeled home. It's a lifestyle-one that's increasingly hard to find. And it's waiting for you.
