Description

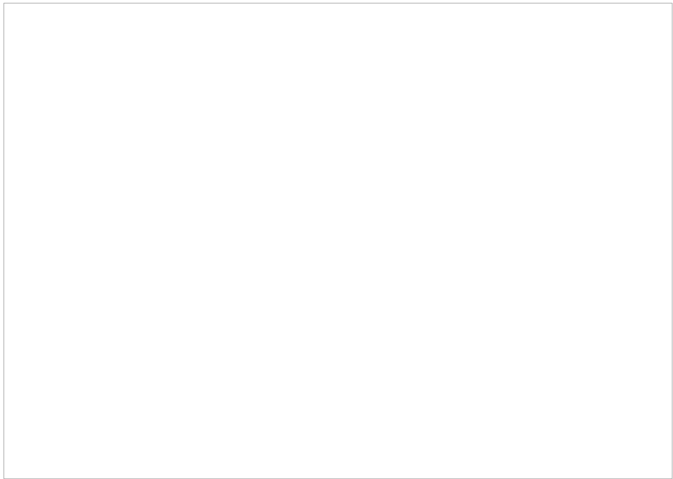

Welcome to 15 Wilton Street, a vintage-modern Craftsman bungalow located in the Heritage Historic District of Greenville's highly sought-after North Main area. Nestled in a quiet neighborhood and just a short walk to vibrant downtown Greenville, this home offers unmatched access to shopping, dining, coffee shops, the popular Saturday Market, Museum Row, Unity Park, and the Swamp Rabbit Trail. Thoughtfully restored in 2016 by the owners and GA Zeigler, every detail of this home reflects a commitment to lasting quality while preserving historic charm. The inviting wraparound front porch sets the tone for the home's timeless character. The open floor plan begins with a spacious living-dining area featuring 10-foot ceilings. Off the sunny kitchen is a flex room, highlighted by an impressive wall of custom cabinetry, that could serve as alternative dining or additional living space. Inside, the home has been carefully updated to suit modern living without compromising authenticity. Finishes throughout complement original elements, including beautifully preserved fireplace tile and gleaming, original heart-pine floors. Additional enhancements include plantation shutters and built-in ceiling speakers wired to a central hub. Three original back-to-back-to-back fireplaces (two converted to gas) are the heart of the home, linking the living, dining, and kitchen spaces. The main level continues to the primary suite, an additional bedroom and bath, and a conveniently located laundry room for easy everyday living. The walk-out lower level with abundant natural light offers a third bedroom and bath, bonus room, and separate flex space ? ideal for a home office, gym, or playroom. The lower level includes crawlspace storage, and the SPF-insulated attic has floored storage as well. This is a rare opportunity to own a meticulously restored historic home in one of Greenville's most desirable neighborhoods, combining classic craftsmanship with modern comfort and walkable urban living.
