Description

Mansion in Bardonnex Nestled in the heart of the charming village of Bardonnex, this remarkable Maison de Maître enjoys an exceptional setting combining tranquillity, privacy and lush surroundings. Rich in history, the property dates back to the early 18th century, with medieval foundations that bear witness to its prestigious past. Having belonged to several prominent Genevan families over the centuries, it has been carefully preserved while retaining the architectural identity that makes it truly unique. Set on beautifully landscaped grounds of approximately 4,500 sqm, the residence offers around 400 sqm of living space and approximately 550 sqm of usable space, arranged over two main floors with converted attic accommodation. Period features, elegant fireplaces, generous proportions and abundant natural light create an atmosphere of timeless refinement throughout the home. The reception floor includes spacious living areas opening onto the terrace and gardens, a kitchen, a guest bedroom and guest facilities. Upstairs, the sleeping quarters comprise six bedrooms in total, including several suites with en-suite bathrooms and dressing room, while the converted attic provides additional versatile spaces ideal for a family lounge, games room, library or home office. A basement with wine cellars, utility room and technical areas completes the property. Outside, the magnificent mature park offers complete privacy and an idyllic setting for family life or entertaining. Owing to its remarkable history, architectural significance and privileged location, this exceptional residence represents an increasingly rare opportunity to acquire one of Geneva's historic country homes.
